Saint Joseph Catholic Schools Celebrate 145 Years of Catholic Education in Northern Utah!

Saint Joseph School opened its doors on April 1, 1877, on 25th Street between Lincoln and Grant Avenues. Started in the basement of Saint Joseph Catholic Church and led by Notre Dame graduate, Florian De Voto and the Sisters of the Holy Cross, we are humbled by the fact that we are the oldest Catholic school in Utah. We have moved locations a few times over our 145-year history, but our mission has always stayed the same – to prepare the students of Ogden and its surrounding communities for a life of compassion, service, and success.

Dear Students, Parents, Alumni, and Friends of Saint Joseph Catholic Schools,

As a new school year is in full swing, winter has arrived and we embrace once again the season of giving. It is with a great sense of pride and gratitude that we celebrate 145 years of Catholic education in Northern Utah. Over the 145 year history, our mission has always remained the same- to prepare students for a life of compassion, service, and success. It is powerful to hear words like confidence, gratitude, passion, opportunity, empowerment, and community from our graduates and their families as they reflect on their years at Saint Joseph Catholic Schools. Their stories are testaments to the impact of an educational mission focused on nurturing and uniquely journeying with each student who enters our doors.

Saint Joseph Catholic Schools is a place where our students learn that they don't have to write their own story by themselves from scratch, but that they are a part of a much greater story that has already been written. That great story is the heritage of Catholic education. We equip our students to prepare as they grow and discover their path in life. We provide a superior academic preparation that is second to none...that is not simply content to pass on information, but to form the mind and the heart to be wise and good.

As Catholic educators, we are part of the greater story as well. Looking back to 145 years of Saint Joseph Catholic Schools in Ogden, Utah, we are privileged to be a part of a long line of educators partnering with parents in the education of our youth. If we've done our job well, we have given countless students more than just the tools they need to be smart and successful; we've provided lessons that go beyond the classroom and have helped form conscientious, faith-filled young men and women who have had and will have the courage to make a positive impact - locally and globally - and give hope for the future.

At the back of this issue, you will find the listing of those who support this beautiful mission and the work required to ensure its execution with continued excellence and fidelity. Words fall short of conveying our gratitude for your generous gifts, but may the lives and accomplishments of more than 6000 alumni, 600 current students, and yet to be numbered future students be your greatest reward.

We are blessed. We Are One.

Yours in Faith,

Nancy Essary
Principal of the Elementary School

Clay Jones
Principal of the High School

Saint Joseph Catholic School provides students with the invaluable opportunity to expand their knowledge, explore their passions, create community, strengthen their sense of self, and come to know God all in one place.

These three words are the pillars of our school's philosophy.

We believe in our students. Our students believe in themselves. At the heart of everything we do is our Catholic faith. It is instilled in the daily life of the school through curricular and co-curricular activities. Understanding God in Christ helps students believe in themselves, building confidence and self-worth.

Our students achieve. With small class sizes, we are able to achieve personal excellence in an academic community focused on nurturing and uniquely journeying with each student who enters our doors.

Our students inspire us. Guided by God's grace, we give students the tools they need to shape their futures and to become their best selves. As educators, we are proud, humbled, and inspired by their success and excited to celebrate their bright futures.
